10 August 1976.

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Your letter of the 7th arouses my interest, but I have to be honest: It doesn't arouse my interest enough to propel me into girding my loins and donning armor for a crusade in Ray's behalf. The years have taught me that I can be effective in only so many causes at one time, and I have about all I can handle now.

My old childlike faith in the FBI has been shaken by recent revelations, so I wouldn't put anything past the Bureau, but the kind of exhaustive investigation in which you have engaged is an enormously time-consuming task. My trouble is that my limited time is too consumed as it is.

Sincerely,

James J. Kilpatrick.

Mr. Harold Weisberg,
Rt. 12,
Frederick, MD 21701.
